Data Streaming / Kafka Expert (m/f/d) at the Stuttgart location

We invite you!

We are an innovative IT company on a growth course. We integrate, check, cleanse, deduplicate and select customer data for our customers. Among other things, we operate a comprehensive data streaming platform for real-time data integration based on Apache Kafka in a container environment (Docker, Kubernetes). For this we need reinforcement for our developer team!

Does this appeal to you? Then we are looking forward to your visit!

For which tasks are we looking for reinforcement?

- You develop data streaming applications with Java for operation in a container environment
- You are responsible for the continuous development of our Data Streaming platform based on Apache Kafka
- You contribute to the optimisation and expansion of the Kafka infrastructure
- You develop in a team (Scrum, agile approach)
- You are involved in tests and their planning and automation
- You support our framework processes of software development (Continuous Build, Integration, Delivery)

What should you bring with you?

- You have completed a degree or training with a focus on computer science
- You have sound knowledge of the Java programming languages and are familiar with software architecture and design patterns
- You already have experience in the design and implementation of data streaming applications and Apache Kafka. Apache Kafka, Kafka Streams and the Confluent Platform are not foreign words to you
- Container environments don't scare you, ideally you already know Docker
- You have already had contact with REST web services and know how to implement them using Spring Boot
- You know your way around the Linux command line and can write simple shell scripts
- You have basic knowledge of relational databases and SQL
- You know software development tools (e.g. Eclipse etc.)
- You already have experience in software development as part of a team
- You can communicate confidently in German and English
- Your way of working is structured and careful

What do we offer you?

- An open, pleasant working atmosphere in the team
- Spacious premises in the heart of Stuttgart with excellent transport connections
- Flexible, family-friendly working hours
- Home office? No problem with us!
- Thorough familiarisation with your tasks, training if required
- The chance to take on responsibility and develop yourself further
- Attractive fringe benefits

Are you curious? Then apply for a job with us!

Not everyone is like everyone else. That's why we know that not everyone can bring all of the described experience and knowledge. In a personal interview we can find out which tasks are best suited to you.
